CERTEX Danmark A/S announces Schroeder-Ankers BV as the new distributor of STARCON products in the Netherlands

CERTEX Danmark A/S is pleased to announce that Schroeder-Ankers BV is now the official distributor of our STARCON products in the Netherlands. STARCON is our renowned brand offering high-quality lifting systems designed for the safe and efficient handling of concrete elements.

This partnership with Schroeder-Ankers BV strengthens our presence in the Dutch market and ensures that our STARCON products reach more customers in the construction sector. STARCON products are known for their focus on safety and efficiency, making them the preferred choice for professionals in the concrete industry.

“We are happy to collaborate with Schroeder-Ankers BV as our new distributor in the Netherlands,” says Majbritt Petersen, Managing director at CERTEX Danmark A/S. “Their commitment to safety, quality, and customer satisfaction makes them the ideal partner for us, and we look forward to delivering our products to the Dutch market through them.”
